HELP! Plastic is everywhere I look. And the petroleum corporations are vowing to triple output in the next five years. We can't recycle our way out of this problem, or dump more on third-world countries. The solution must simply be reduction.

Please reduce the amount of plastics in your company's packaging and operations and encourage your suppliers to do the same. There are many other environmentally friendly alternatives available. Start with the single-use plastic first.

I, and my friends, closely watch this sort of thing and do business at environmentally inclined companies. I like your company and want to see it thrive in a sustainable way.

Sincerely,

City:
